

Keep all monopoly connections to homes and businesses open to full competition.
There is no other way to assure superiority of technology and service.